Sweet butter can't be made in a sour churn. The stomach is a churn. A foul stomach is old the food put into it. When the food is fouled the blood made from it is fouled also. Foul blood means disease. Cleanse the churn and you have sweet butter. Cleanse the stomach and you have pure blood. The far reaching section of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is due to its effect on the stomach and organs of digestion and mutrition. Diseases that begin in the stomach are cured through the stomach.

AMUSEMENTS.

The second visit in this city of the famous extravaganza, "Jack and the Beanstalk," is announced, and it is not unreasonable to expect that the Opera House will be filled to its utmost capacity, Tuesday, February 28. The remarkable success achieved by this well known production during the past two seasons led to such insistent demands for it in the larger cities that its tours have been limited to New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and a few other places. In fact, the management could, with profit, send it over this beaten track again, but promises made to local managers will be kept and "Jack" will visit this season numerous localities where he has not yet been seen. The production of this plece has been accepted by critics and public wherever it has been seen, as embodying the best elements of extravaganza. Its elevated tone, the rare richness shown in mounting and equipment, the presence sverywhere of taste, skill and judgment, have combined to furnish the best and most complete work of its kind ever shown is materially the same that has been identified with it from its inception. The few changes in the cast have been made with the intention of adding a distinct measure of vocal strength. All the pretty girls, the gorgeous costumes, the mapfificent scenery beautiful ballots, electrical effects, and special features that gave to "Jack" its remarkable vogue in Boston will be shown here. Among those who will be prominent in the cast are Edith Yerrington, formerly of the "Bostoniass": Margaret Mills, Lena Merville, Frank Deshon, George Gorman, William Pullman, H. M. Morse and Sarony Lambett. inreasonable to expect that the Opera House will be filled to its utmost capac-

"Blue Jeans."

One of the very best attractions which theater-goess of the city have which theater-goess of the city have had the opportunity to see at popular prices is "Biue Jeans," the charming pastoral drama, which will conclude a very successful engagement at the Grand Opera House with matines and night performances to-day. The play is admirably staged, all the scenery and effects used in the original production being used. The saw mill scene is a veritable gem of stage realism. The company is large and capable in every sense of the word. The specialties are excellent. The house has been crowded at both performances.
